

Notice Hancock Residents:

It's "Make a Difference" Day in Hancock on Saturday October 25 from 9 - 11 am. For the second year, citizens will meet at 9 am at Quincy Green (site of the Hancock Tori) with rakes and gloves to get assignments for areas of Hancock that need attention. Refreshments and bags will be provided.

A nationwide event, Make a Difference Days occurs around the country on this day, sponsored by Parade Magazine. It is the largest national day of volunteering with thousands of youth and adults investing in their communities to make things better.

Deborah Mann, organizer of the local event, says that the success of last year fuels efforts to do it again. She wants residents to take pride in their beautiful city. She encourages people to give a few hours of their time to make a difference. Church groups, student groups from MTU and Finlandia, OHM employees, and other local businesses have already committed to participate.

Families, students, anyone and everyone. are encouraged to come out and get an assignment for a particular area, tree planting, painting, raking, trash pick up, a park, a parking lot, an alley, etc. or to identify a part of their own neighborhood which needs attention.
